February 2011

The President's Notes

Roger Corrado

(corradohome@yahoo.com)

Our two biggest events are almost here!! The Fly Show on Feb 5 should be really good this year – many vendors, great fly tying, and 3 excellent speakers. I hope we don't have the snows we have had in the past. However, you can tell how popular fly fishing is since we always have a crowd there. If you can, come to the show and bring a friend – learn about new equipment and new fishing opportunities! Our Banquet, March 5th is our only fund raiser for the year – supporting all of our education and conservation activities. Ticket sales are good this year but we still have some available so send in your reservations to reserve your spot or signup at the next meeting. Additionally, we need more donations – bring them to the next meeting or let Bob Miller know to pick them up. I want to thank several members who are donating some exciting private outings – come to the Banquet and find out what they are.

I want to thank Jeff McElravy and his team for bringing in Tom Travis for the fly tying and tactics lessons. I am sure if you attended any of his classes you learned some new tactics, new materials to use, and new tactics to help us be better fishermen/fisherwomen. Just a note, we plan to continue to bring in new educational opportunities this coming year – let us (the Board) know what you would like to see or do.

Check out the Buffer for the newly published schedule for this year for the variety of trips and activities! If you can help either set up or tear down at the Fly Show it would be appreciated. Bring a two-wheel dolly if you have one.

Time to think about fishing!!!

Roger

BUFF February 2011 Program

Off Season Fly Fishing Opportunities on Michigan's Au Sable River

Presenter - Josh Greenberg

Josh began fly-fishing on the creeks and ponds of Ohio, and on the mountain streams of Tennessee. Since then, he has been fortunate enough to fish all over the country, and even in New Zealand. But the majority of his river time has been on Michigan's Au Sable River, where he has worked as a guide and shop rat since he could drive. When not talking about fishing, he is probably fishing."

Fly Fishing 101 Course
March 2011
Lou Haynes

The BUFF Fly Fishing 101 Course will be held in March at the Springdale Community Center located at 11999 Lawnview Avenue in Springdale (behind the Outback Restaurant near Rt. 4 and I-275). The classes will be held on the four Thursday evenings in March (3, 10, 17 and 24) and will run from 6:30 PM to 8:30 PM. This course is open to BUFF members “only”; there is no fee to attend. The information presented is designed for beginners and intermediate-skilled fishers. There will be a sign-up sheet at the February general meeting; you may also register by contacting me directly louhaynes37@gmail.com; 513-777-4854. If you have an interest in the course I encourage you to register even if you can't come to all 4 classes. You can catch-up by reviewing the notes from the classes you miss.

The course material will cover rods, reels, backing, lines, leaders, tippets, recommended flies to get you started, fly fishing knots, how to select a fly rod system to meet your fishing needs, other equipment needs and casting basics.

Course Outline:

- ✓ Class 1. Lines, rods, reels and backing.
- ✓ Class 2. Leaders, tippets, how to select a fly fishing system to meet your fishing needs, how to correctly put your system together and take it apart, fly line cleaning, recommended flies to get you started and fly fishing terms.
- ✓ Class 3. Leader designs, knots, hooks and additional equipment needs
- ✓ Class 4. Casting basics & demonstrations, casting video.

You do not need to bring anything other than something to write with. I'll hand out copies of all the slides used during the course so you can take notes as you wish.

Weather Issues. A class will be cancelled (and rescheduled) if there is a level #1 or greater snow emergency announced on TV. My contact info is 513-777-4854; louhaynes37@gmail.com.

WHAT HAPPENED TO THE ZEBRAS? Steve Lilly

On March 27, 2007, the Army Corps of Engineers reduced the outflow for the Ceasar Creek Dam from 1225cfs to 238cfs. This caused the creek below the dam to drop from a gage height of 9.2 ft to 6.4ft, almost 3 feet. As the creek receded from the bank, several million zebra mussels became stranded. These zebra mussels were so thick, they were virtually shoulder to shoulder all along the edge of the creek, and in some spots were bunched up three or four deep. All of them were alive because Zebra mussels can live for weeks out of the water. Although they attach themselves to whatever solid objects are available, such as intake pipes, these zebra's were not attached to anything. They don't have any appendage like a foot for locomotion as many mussels do, but sometimes they will bunch up in a ball and let the current roll them along. Many such balls of zebras could be found along the creek bank. All of these stranded zebras were waiting for the water to rise so that they could get on with things. In addition to the stranded zebras, many more were still in the stream, and were firmly attached to the stream substrate by way of their byssal threads.

All summer long, anyone wading in the creek could easily find lots of zebra mussels attached to the rocks all along the creek bottom. If a rock were lifted from the stream, many zebras of all sizes could be found on the rock's underside.

However, by November there wasn't a zebra to be found anywhere in Ceasar Creek. They are not on or under any rocks. Maybe one or two could be found in a backwater, some distance from the main stream, but otherwise they were all gone. What happened to all those millions of zebras that were so prevalent in the early spring?

BUFF Ultimate Fly Box

I think it would be enjoyable and useful for 2011 BUFF members to help create the BUFF Ultimate Fly Box. It will be a collection of BUFF members' favorite flies which work for different species that will be viewable at the BUFF website. Current BUFF members will be allowed to submit to me via email descriptions of two of their favorite flies. Members who do not have email can send their descriptions to me on a DVD via the U.S. mail or give it to me at a BUFF meeting. The description must include a picture of the fly (jpeg file), tying directions – a simple listing of materials in the order used, species caught on the fly, and comments (if any), a brief note the submitter may want to add to the description. Please add your full name to the description in case it is not included with your email address. And please put the names of your two flies in the title of your email to me. Ken Foltz has graciously consented to use the information provided to design the BUFF Ultimate Fly Box on the BUFF website. Thanks Ken! If two people send in the same fly description, the fly shown in the Ultimate Fly Box will be credited to the first submitter. Depending on the response we hope to continue to add to the BUFF Ultimate Fly Box in the future.

Beginning now you can send your fly descriptions to me at your convenience. As you can imagine if there is a big initial response my mail box can get shut down. If that happens you will be automatically informed about it and you will have to resend your email at a later time. As long as I am home I will make every attempt to put fly descriptions on a DVD and free up email space ASAP. Thanks for your patience if your initial message to me does not go through.

Cabin Fever Relief Banquet 2011 March 5, 2011

The 2011 Cabin Fever Relief Banquet will be held on Saturday, March 5th at Receptions Conference Center in Fairfield. The annual banquet is our organization's largest fund raising event of the year.

Our featured speakers for this year's event will be Glenn Weisner and Wayne Samson of Glenn River Fly Company Ltd.. Wayne and Glenn are based in Toledo Ohio and are experts on fly tying and fly fishing. More importantly, Wayne and Glenn are a great entertainment team that is sure to provide an enjoyable evening to experienced fly fishers and newcomers alike. If you haven't seen these guys, and even if you have, you owe it to yourself to attend!

We will again have the Grand Prize Tables, Silent Auctions, Blind Auctions, and, of course, the General Raffle Tables. You will be able to purchase banquet tickets at the next few monthly meetings and/or through the mail using the banquet sign-up sheet available at the meetings, in the "Buffers", or on-line at the BUFF website. The cost of the Banquet remains unchanged from last year at $30/person (through December 8), $35/person (from December 9 through January 12), or $40/person (after January 12). As in the past, we are going to limit the number of participants to 200 – so be sure to get your reservation made as soon as possible.

PRIZE RECRUITMENT: As you know, we urgently need the help and support of all BUFF members to produce an enjoyable and successful banquet. Profits from the banquet help to fund our organizations activities throughout the upcoming year. We are asking all BUFF members to consider donating a raffle/auction item or make a cash donation for the banquet this year. You may bring your donations to the general meetings and give them to either Lane Stocker or Bob Miller. As your gifts are charitable donations be sure to get a receipt and keep it to deduct on your taxes. More details about the banquet will be in the future BUFFER newsletters and on our website shortly. March will be here before you know it!!!

If you are interested in helping with the banquet this year please contact either Banquet Co-chair, Bob (378-6904) or Lane (484-3963) . If you have an idea for a unique raffle/auction item feel free to share that with the committee.
