April 2005

President's Corner

Mike Bryant (mjbryant@email.com)

Having Fun - As we move into April, winter is finally letting go and hopefully warm weather is on its way. We said goodbye to winter with our annual B.U.F.F. Cabin Fever Relief Banquet in March. For those of you who could not attend, you missed another great event. We had over 200 attendees this year, by far the largest crowd ever! As promised, the food was good, the friendship and fellowship was great and the auction / raffles better than ever. We had a very successful fundraiser and we are looking forward to have a great year in 2005.

One of the highlights of the Banquet was the Awards and Recognition Ceremony. This year we recognized four individuals for their extraordinary service to B.U.F.F. Joe Panfalone and Paul Feldman were awarded the highest honor our club has to offer, The Lifetime Membership Award. Both Joe and Paul have served on the Board, taught countless new flyfishers the basics of our sport, and have been instrumental in the health and growth of B.U.F.F. over the past couple of decades. Jim LeBlond was awarded 2004 The Flyfisher of the Year Award for his efforts that include past Presidency for three years, Banquet co-chair, and the Intermediate Fly Casting Course leader We also recognized Debbie Hampton with The Board of Directors' Award. Debbie is currently serving on the Board, co-chaired the Banquet for several years, and is the Chairperson of B.U.F.F's very successful Outreach Program, Casting For Recovery.

At the March dinner meeting, Glenn Weisner and Wayne Samson (Glenn River Fly Co.) put on another great fly tying demonstration, including some new and innovative techniques, to a packed house. At the upcoming April dinner meeting, John Tertuliani, will provide an informative presentation on fly fishing for smallmouth. John recently published a book entitled Smallmouth Bass and Streams, with the subtitle Thoughts on Fly-Fishing. If you plan on attending the B.U.F.F. Elkhorn River trip, this is a presentation you will want to see. Don't forget to make your dinner reservations via the website or phone.

Trips – Our club spring trips are around the corner. But there's still time to signup:

- Rockwell Trout Club / Helms' Fly Tying Seminar: April 23 24
- Nantahala River Trip: April 28 May 1
- Elkhorn River Trip: May 19 21

More information can be found on the website.

Education – Lou Haynes has the Fly Fishing 101 course in full gear. Over thirty folks have been attending each week to learn the basics on fly fishing. The Beginner's Fly Tying Course, Net Building Course, and Rod Building Course were all very successful again this year, and the upcoming Beginner's Casting Course is already full. Our education program is off to a very good start.

B.U.F.F Pride – At last month's dinner meeting, we introduced the offer to purchase a B.U.F.F. fly fishing shirt.For only $30, you can own a high quality Redington fly fishing shirt with the B.U.F.F name and a fly rod with reel and line embroidered over the right pocket. This will help give us club recognition at various events and a way to show off our club pride, besides getting an excellent fishing shirt at a great price. If you haven't already purchased your shirt, you must do so by the April dinner meeting. Once the shirts are ordered, the offer will not be offered for some time. We also now have B.U.F.F. patches and pins available for $5.00 each. You can purchase the shirt, patches and pins at the April dinner meeting.

The warmer weather has me itching to get out on the water. Hope to see you at the April meeting and maybe out on the streams. Be safe.

Buying a new fly rod Dave Uckotter

We all need a new fly rod sooner or later. If this is your first fly rod, or a new rod to add to your collection, you might want to glance over the following article.

This article was written by Tom Shaw, the president of Backcountry Fly Fishers located in Naples, Florida, in their December newsletter. My comments will be underlined. I know Tom, and he has a wealth of knowledge about fly-fishing and the equipment that we use. He has tried almost every combination of fly rod, fly line, rod length, and rod speed that you could think of. Much of his article is slanted to the fly fisherman who has an assortment of rods, but it pertains to the first time rod buyer, also. I put a lot of stake in what he says...what do you think?

TJA is a new help group. Tackle Junkies Anonymous. It's the holiday season (season's over, there are always birthdays, etc) and you're thinking about getting a new fly rod. Sure your wife, husband (fill in the blank), and the kids have no ideas about what to get you, because you have everything made related to fly-fishing. Yeah, a new rod, that's the ticket! That's what they can buy me. Before you wind up with a rod you're not thrilled with, and that sits in the closet for eternity, here are some pointers. I just wish someone had told me this a few years ago.

NEVER buy a rod without casting it. (Your local independent fly shops have rods to try before you buy.) Don't go by a friend's recommendation alone, or have your spouse buy it as a present. Test the rod yourself. Your casting style and ability may be quite different, and the rod that was great for your friend might not be so great for you. The local fly shops in our area have almost all the major brands available to try.

Test the rod that you would normally fish with. It's a very important point of reference when testing various rods. The casting characteristics of a rod can change with different line configurations. I would suggest the line weight designated for the rod and one weight higher. (Your local independent fly shops have a variety of line weights to try) I used to over-line my rod and found that to be a mistake. Over-lining a slow rod can detract from it's casting ability, but, with some of the newer faster action rods, over-lining them can turn them into turbo charged cannons.

Everyone likes to see how far he or she can throw with a rod, and will always test for that. What is equally important is the rods "dinking" ability. How well it can throw 15 to 20 feet of line? This is especially important when fishing the mangroves and docks. (This would also apply to fishing the banks of a stream, close structure, and a weed line.) How little line needs to be beyond the tip of the rod to pick up and cast back to a target without false casting? If you are fishing several hours straight, a four-count cast is twice the workload on your arm as is a two count.

So those are just a few things to consider. If you or your family is investing hundreds of dollars in a fly rod, you'd better be thrilled with it.

A Bountiful Banquet for an Awesome Year!

Debbie Hampton

2004 was a great year, and from the huge success of the Annual Cabin Fever Relief Banquet, 2005 is already on its way to another banner year. We had over 200 attendees for this year's banquet with many familiar as well as some new faces. Everyone enjoyed the food, fellowship and of course the awesome array of prizes and auction items.

This event would not be the successful fundraiser it is, without the wonderful support of our local shops. Please remember to check out the list of those supporters, and be sure that if you are in their stores, you let them know you appreciate the support. If you are looking for a particular item, check out the local stores and see if they can help you out!!!

The Banquet Committee, "The Dream Team". -- They are the ones who make the banquet so successful. While fishing season is just winding down last September, the Dream Team was already hard at work on the banquet. They are what make it all come together, and their time and talents are truly appreciated!!! Thanks to you and your families for your giving spirit to support our club.

That's what the banquet is all about -- support BUFF and all the programs/events we support during the year. Thank you to all those individuals who made donations of money, items, and your time. With out you it would not have been so successful.

Next year's banquet will be guided by Roger Corrado and Bob Miller, and while I'm sure many of the Dream Team will return, please see Roger or Bob if you are interested in helping for the 2006 banquet. It takes membership participation to make the event happen, and it's a fun and exciting way to support the club.

Thanks to ALL who made 2004 a Great Year and I'm looking forward to all the exciting things coming in 2005.

The following businesses supported our banquet, so please support them!

Build A Bear Workshop, Newport Aquarium, Mike Wilson Enterprises, WAVE Foundation, Oil Creek Outfitters The Cincinnati Zoo, Adrien Outfitters, Bass Pro Shops Outdoor World, Brandywine Inn, Brookside Guides CCS Fly-Fishing Outfitters, Cherry Bend Pheasant Farm, Cincinnati Marshals, David Ruimveld Studio, Deep Creek Campground, Delamere & Hopkins, Dick's Sporting Goods, Don Hudepohl Jewelers, Evergreen Fly Fishing Company, Fly and Shot Outfitters, Glenn River Fly Co. April Meeting Program

John Tertuliani, is a biologist from the Columbus, Ohio office of the US Geological Survey. He is also a writer and is editor of Outdoor Writers of Ohio, and is associated with Outdoor Writers of America. He has recently published a book entitled Smallmouth Bass and Streams, with the subtitle Thoughts on Fly-Fishing. His book presents some valuable insights into smallmouth behavior and their foraging techniques. These insights can lead to better success while fishing for them. His discussion on crayfish, that make up a significant portion of the smallmouth diet, is especially interesting, and offers some useful fly patterns to mimic the crayfish. Signed copies of the book can be purchased at the meeting. His talk will be about reading streams and fly fishing. This will be interesting to all, bass or trout fishermen, including anyone just getting started, as well as those who have spent years in the streams. This is one meeting you will not want to miss, especially if you are going on the BUFF trip to the Elkhorn this June. As a biologist for Commonwealth Technologies, and while conducting studies for Toyota Mfg., John has twice electrofished the Elkhorn. Also, as a graduate student, John had conducted field trips there.

Elkhorn Trip May 19, 20 & 21, 2005 In search of the Bronzebacks

On Thursday, Friday, Saturday and Sunday, camp at the Elkhorn Campground at the confluence of the north and south forks of the Elkhorn or get a motel on Versailles pike. Bluegrass motel 1 (502) 695-1800. For the camp ground, you must call 1 (502) 695-9154 and make your own reservations. They are holding 5 RV spots and 5 tent sites until April 15, 2002. There will be 2 tents to a site, so be prepared to share. It works! This is the way we get to know Buff members.

Get a reservation form from Don Hogue, 513 – 231-4852, Thesputzer@fuse.net or from the website. You must also procure a Buff consent form (also available on the website).

On Friday morning meet at the camp site, and we will match you up with an experienced mentor, show you the lay of the land, and answer any questions. On Saturday morning, Doug Mowell and Don Hogue will cook you a hot breakfast at 7:30 a.m. for $2.00 at the campground. You will get OJ, coffee, 2 eggs, 3 link sausage and grits. Reservations only – 20 max. On Saturday night at 6:30 p.m. Don and Doug will serve, grilled steak, baked potatoes, fried corn, (and if Don can master it) fried biscuits. If not, fried cardboard #@+ cornbread, soft drink and one of Doug Mowell's famous tossed salads. $8.00 reservations only, 20 max. Pay at the campground.

You can wade, bring a belly boat, one man pontoon, or canoe. Some good fishing is available right at the campground for boating, or wade up from the campground. There are access points on both the north and south forks, as well as the main stream. These all lay in a 10 mile radius from the campground.

Joe Panfalone maintains the brown woolly bugger is the best fly. Don Hogue says the Bumblebee popper w/ a flashback pheasant tail dropper is the ticket. Bob Ireton says the red fox squirrel nymph, Randy Clark won't tell! Nick Rizzo says something with long legs and everyone agrees...3" from the bank or weeds. Of course right below a riffle, in the shadows of logs, in crevices and under big rocks are good places to fish.

The last 2 years have been rained out, so Kaiser Lake will be the back up. Directions to Kaiser Lake will be in the packet. Be sure to pick up a reservation form at the April meeting or contact Don Hogue.

Grand Opening at Fly and Shot Outfitters

Come on in Saturday, April 23, 2005 for the Grand Opening of Fly and Shot Outfitters. Bluegrass, food and fun will all be a part of this festive day. Join our fly fishing vendors, pro staff individuals, local fly fishing celebrities and Jose Chavez a.k.a. the Fish Eagle for an afternoon of fun. Learn how to cast a fly rod and tie your own flies. Try new equipment, see how rods are built and broke along with many other fly fishing related activities. Bring family, friends and enemies out to Fly and Shot for a one of a kind fly fishing activities day. Music will be provided by anyone who can play, pick or strum. Don't miss this chance for a 20% discount on all your fly fishing needs.

Join Todd Currell from Cortland and Diamond Back, Jerry Darkes from Scott and Rio, and Brian Pitser from Sage and Simms for hands-on demonstrations and for chance to test drive some of the World's Best fly fishing equipment Don't miss out!

Fly Line Loops

If you use loops on the end of your fly line for leader attachment, stop by the education corner to learn about a neat way to "tie-one-on". I learned this loop from Mike Bryant who learned it from a tarpon guide in Florida. The loop is easy to tie and very strong. We will have a tying display set-up to look at and step-by-step instructions to take with you.

"Women In The Outdoors" Program at Big Oak

The Big Oak Refuge near Madison, Indiana is holding their first "Women in the Outdoors" program Saturday, June 11th. They have scheduled 23 different courses for women to choose from and have requested help with a fly fishing course. Charlie Svarda, one of our BUFF members, has agreed to help and is looking for volunteers to assist him. Please call or e-mail Charlie if you are interested: 513-874-8165, mjsvarda@fuse.net.
